I believe I am within the mark in placing these figures as rippessenting the direct lesses to the shareholders in a few of the Companies concerued, and, astonishing as they are, to enable one to form even an approximate idea of the far-resching and grievous effect in Hongkong and the China ports of rainously low shipping rates they must be supplemented by the losses to other vessels augiged in the trade, and the Lustly, and not leastly, the Commissioner of general dulness through severe economies in 'repairs, stores, &c., also rudsced commissions to agents at all points, necessitating office economies, which tell in turn on slerks and other amployte do. do.

In the wake of this serious depreciation and udden cartailment of incomings we have forced sales of valuable properties followed by general depression and financial distrust. As a climax we are told in all seriou mess that the dest unall of the Colony has been sounded (!), but at far from believing such to be the case I am satished that a great, it not a full, mountout prosperity would return to the Colony, and that unickly, if those of the residents who hold the lestinies of the shipping trales in their hand would exercise a little energy and business that combined with honesty of purpose-attributes

The three leading Consting Companies are to be congratulated upon having agreed to bury the hatchet and already the various trades in which they are interested are being placed on a profitable basis. If this ration il example were followed throughout a glerious change would be speedily apparent in your streets, and I venure to predict that within one gair from the late of adjustment of this money-miking branch I the Colony's trade, an enermons gain would corne to it, probably amounting to millions

With this also would come relief to the heads of financial houses, more money in the shape of lividends, &c., seeking investment, and in all probability a general sympathatic improvement n land and around securities of all kinds.

The Hongkong Banking, Insurance, Industrial Companies are all prosperous in their way, and may justly be printed to with a feeling of pride by Hongkongites. I have visions of cetand other factories being gradually establishd and adding their quota to the general went of the island. In fact, in my opinion, Honghong s and will remain one of the brightest game of he British Empire, and I sincerely trust Nover" will before long be free to admit that be has anderestimated its worth and stability Lam, dear sir, yours

THE BOMBAY CORPORATION AND THE RIOTS BOMBAT. 12th September. The Bombay Corporation devoted the whole of the afference to a discussion of the Municipal lommis a saction in providing food and conveyance for the troops during the recent riots. The discussion was adjourned from the previous me-ting and yesterlay Mr. Mehta resumed his palysis of the Municipal Act so far as it re upon the question. He contended that the Musicipal Commissioner had no more power case of emergency than the Corporation as a stances, and was of the opinion that the action of the Commissioner did not come within the purview of the Act. He moved as a further that view. Confronted with the question as to how to raise the Rs. 4.500 di bursed, Mr. Mohta was against the Commissioner going round as suggested by Dr. Viegas with a subscription list in hand as he was against that officer being himself muloted with the ontire cost, and as a way out of the difficulty he himself guaranteed that he and his friends would raise the amount. The action was suited by the word and within a few minutes a considerable sum was subscribed by the native gentlement. The Municipal Com missioner told the Corporation that he had absolutely no doubt at the time he incurred the expenditure that the Act provided for such action as he took and felt himself absolutely forced into the posttion of doing us he did. He had consulted the Municipal solicitor and that gentlewin had also held that power was contained in the Act. but Mr. Laverarity to whom he had submitted the case and held that his action to a great extent. was not covered by the Act.
